Both these finished in their one-mile relay events within fifteen feet of their competitors.

George Washington's Grueling Race.

The George Washington four was pitted against the strong Western Mary-land College team. Lorando led off for the Hatchetites, and after a grueling quarter was passed just before the finsh of the first lap. Gunning, who ran next for the Washingtonians, failed to make up the distance, as did Gill, who looked for a time as if he would get his opponent. N. Claggett was reled on to gain the lost ground, but after Jollowing his man closely for a lap and a half, was finally forced to drop be-on to gain the lost ground, but after Jollowing his man closely for a lap and a half, was finally forced to drop behind, where he finished, eight feet in the rear.

The relay which the District National Guard team lost to the Central Y. M. C. A. four of Baltimore was even more closely contested than that in which the collegians were defeated. Rice led off for the Capital and was satisfied to let his man set a slow pace for a lap and a half. Here the militiaman went to the front, but as the two rounded into the stretch the association runner shot ahead and touched his second man off two feet to the good. Clarke was next off for Washington, and by a beautiful piece of head work managed to set Schlosser off three feet in advance of the Baltimore boy. The former was not equal to the occasion, however, and Royce was four feet behind when he started off on the last quarter for Washington. The little National Guardsman made a noble effort to retrieve his team mates' loss, but after a pretty spurt of several hundred yards was unable to stand the pace and finished six feet behind.

come a member of the city association, and be eligible to enter five men, two men or individuals of that club in either the Western or Eeastern organization, or both.

Owing to the nearness of Atlantic City and its popularity; it is confidently expected that Washington will have a large representation at the bowling fest by the sea during the gay Easter season. Entry blanks for the various events in the Atlantic City tournament can be had from Mr. Livingston, Mr. Meyers, or at the Palace alleys.
